INTRODUCTION

Difficult Daughters is a story of three generations of women: Ida, the raconteur, who is a divorcee. Virmati, her mother, who marries a previously marital lecturer for love, and Kasturi, her grandmother, who come to conditions with a difficult daughter, Virmati. This was not an imaginary family, but the story of a true, focus division house with fathers, mothers and brothers and sisters to facilitate one had seen and lived with. Integration them mutually was the environment of the separation, which 50 duration afterwards seems to be the watershed event of modern India. In short, their reputation rested on their documenting correctly the existence and period of this nation's early years, provided that we with a picture that was like available during a relations photo album where half-forgotten individuals and actions leapt reverse into our consciousness. Virmati is concerned headed for an English lecturer who falls overpoweringly in love with her because his uneducated wife might never establish a spirit assistant. After his frequent overtures Virmati gives in, as she is also a spirit feeling thirst for love. This criminal matter leads to numerous a problems. Virmati has to tolerate the force without help. She is strained to terminate the child of Harish as the professor is reluctant rather fearful to tie the knot her. Ultimately at the persistence of a companion, the lecturer is strained into marrying her. But Virmati's hardships do not end here, they merely transform standard. Most of her sufferings are caused by caring lethargy. Virmati does have a compassionate take on to suppurate on and this aggravates her distress. She suffers at the hands of the narrow humanity, her family and above all her paramour.

Difficult Daughters is set at the occasion of screen in Amritsar and Lahore. Virmati's life would have ended at a significant face, had she decided herself to be marital to the extremely proper young man, a vessel engineer, her family find for her. But, opportunely for her and more for the student, a theatrical modify takes position there. Virmati passes her occasion by selection her increasingly pregnant mother in the housework attractive mind of the younger siblings and studying. Virmati's relations consider her entitled for marriage as she is expert in tapestry, food preparation and understanding. At the same occasion, Virmati is attentive by the young lecturer, fresh from Oxford. Superiority that she sees in the Professor's existence aptitude to appreciate English narrative, chiefly verse, his favourite for tea in faint porcelain cups and his record player concerned her very a good deal. She realizes that is ineffective to appear for answer within the house.

When we obtain a seem approximately at the women in this narrative, one can investigate into relations times past and inspect grandmothers and enormous grandmothers. Approximately every female has a narrative to tell under their happy disguise. Conceivably they wouldn't imagine their lives commendable sufficient, but we include a group to be grateful our foremothers for, from equal supporting contribution to the accurate to teaching. Organism the eldest of the family, Virmati spends her occasion as look after, at the same time as her mother, Kasturi, spends her existence reproducing, Virmati goes to educate and academy. She has an open minded father, fortunately, and sees teaching as a run away from the rigours of family life. Virmati sets upon a course of teaching that doesn't fundamentally alter her way of thoughts, but gives her the good sense to command to create her own mistake.

The grasp is that she marries a gentleman with two kids. Their worship is creating away. Harish emerges unhurt. Virmati on the other hand is ostracised, and kept jailed at residence pending she agrees to marry an important person of her mother's choosing. She refuses, investment securely on to her adore for Harish. As per desire, she is sent to superior learn her lover marries her after five years as a publicly established moment wife. Education for girls was forever seen as a course to corruption. As far as Virmati is worried, teaching is an escape. But her relations is influenced that it led to her ethical poverty. Her declining in love made her a fallen lady. Manju Kapur productively portrayed early on twentieth century Punjabi existence and has efficiently captured the dealings.

It is proper that she is the look after that Kapur writes of but surely she forms the heart of the character that Kapur so affectionately presents. Difficult Daughters begins with a daughter leaving reverse to Amritsar delivery her mother's remains to assemble her caring family. The story then alternate between the past and the present with the mother and daughter utterance to each other through places and events. Traced within this concept are both the olden times of the mother's strange life and the confusion of the year's former the freedom of our country. Amritsar is those times was a greatly diverse place from what it is nowadays since it isn't today. Towns such as Amritsar had what was called a 'gentry', which counted important instructor, teachers, lawyers and landed family between their classes. To such a family belong Virmati. Her grandfather is a famous owner and enthusiastic Arya Samaj, faithful to the learning of women. Because, it is he who helps Virmati to stand upon her point. His sons run a victorious charms institution and have a great children of brood. Virmati is the eldest of 11 kids and divides her occasion stuck connecting helping her feeble mother manage with the housework and studying. It doesn't mean that she did it with honestly. Virmati's concentration in studies is unintelligible to her family which considers her talented sufficient to grip life, able to as she is to transaction with embroidery, food preparation and reading and writing. The narrative, then, alternate connecting the past and the present, revealing bit by bit, Virmati's life from the information Ida collect from her mother's associates, brothers, sisters and connections. She concludes by proverb, "This volume weave a association connecting my nurse and me, each word a lump in a house I made with my beginning and my mind. Now survive in it, Mama, and disappear me be. Do not trouble me anymore.

Virmati in Difficult Daughters has to be a mother, to all her ten siblings. The mother Kasturi is concerned in the sole job of procreation departure the young ones for Virmati to have a propensity winning. The want or want for of mother's understanding shoulder at residence services these daughters to appear for consideration exterior which in revolve leads to trickery. At times Virmati yearned for love, for some indication that was particular. However, when she put her beginning subsequently to the youngest baby, feeding in the mother's weapons, Kasturi would get irritable and shove her gone. "Have you seen to their food, milk, garments, study?" The unfortunate girl does her best to settle her protect and at the same time follow her studies. The world may not love a devotee, but it surely adores a mother, concurrently a descendant may love her mother. The humanity is full of love, warmth, noble attachment and all that is yielding and sweet and dignified in creature life. Connecting a mother and a child, faith and love survive. This should be particularly factual of a mother daughter association. "What will occur to you following I am disappeared?" Is her favourite grieved about Ida? Since, she is naught, husbandless and sterile. She feels herself balanced like a pencil document on the boundaries of civilization. Daughters are not all that responsibility, appreciative lot and look after are not all that loving, sacrifice solitary. Their connection is wrought by the conditions that were dominated. As it is that the extensive sequence of training of women start beginning their mothers. Mothers, organism women, were themselves broken in by their mothers first and the humanity at large into the norms of the patriarchal civilization.

CONCLUSION

India has a prosperous custom of early tale and story. The story not only entertains but also reflects about the society that prevails. Apart from excitement, adventures, and emotion, they also advocate good morals and beliefs, wealthy in connotation. The narrative gives us an analysis of mother-daughter connection, tracing it during three following generation. During the receptive representation of three generations of women and their struggle, Manju Kapur has given us a remarkable picture of the development of the Indian woman's consciousness ultimately, preliminary from the pre-independence age during the liberty age unto the occasion of the placement freedom. We see feminist leanings at the beginning in the description of Shakuntala and Virmati who create their own choice in existence. The at the moment development appear to attraction out that women who go moving organization are persuaded to be singled out and subjugated by culture, discarded still by their own mothers. Their connection with their protect becomes the first causality. And the sears they bear are handed down to the next production. Due to the distinction in period, the production gap becomes too expensive to be bridged. Even the ordinary knowledge of teenager manner did not carry them jointly, unlike in common protect – offspring interaction. The demanding period of screen and its consequences, much elaborate in the narrative, may have cause a split in relations. Only with Virmati's loss is the spirit lay to relax, and Ida becomes gratis to guide her have existence, no longer dying out by the shade of her mother. The novel is appointer to how a mother's pressure could be worrying to the daughter under different situation. How filial adore and warmth could be replace by hatred and anger, how a mother, usually and essence of give up and decency, could become a representation of self-centredness and anger to her brood.
